The Cartoon Bird

Biking against wind near Kiwanis Island

and a bird actually sticks in flight above. It gives up and reverses,

like a bird in a cartoon.

Now, the wind behind, it cannot fly! Concludes my science self, “Trapped in a narrow whirlwind, a column of equi-directional air!”

Suddenly it plummets to explode Sykes creek, emerging with a fish!

We all need to use conditions,
an art of course.
